1. As discussed on Monday's show, nearly 40 percent of what food grown in the U.S. goes to animal feed?

2. In what nation did a series of terrorist attacks target churches and hotels on Easter Sunday?

3. In what nation did a newly unveiled tomb depict brightly colored images from the "Fifth Dynasty," which ruled the country more than 4,000 years ago?

4. Name the famous, slanted street in San Francisco where officials have made a variety of proposals (including a fee) to curb a growing problem with tourist traffic.

5. Name the longest-serving monarch in British history, who is preparing to host U.S. President Donald Trump in a state visit this June.

6. What two world leaders met for the first time this week at an international summit in Vladivostok?

7. An outbreak of what bacteria, which has been linked to tainted ground beef, has infected more than 150 Americans in 10 states?

8. What kind of primates recently "posed" for a selfie with a Congolese park ranger, causing a picture to go viral and potentially help with conservation efforts?

9. What disease has infected 681 people across America -- the most cases since it was declared "eliminated" from the country in the year 2000?

10. What has been used to expand the area of New York City's islands since the city was established in 17th Century?