

OVERVIEW

The study was conducted for CNN via telephone by SSRS, an independent research company. Interviews were conducted from January 16-19, 2020 among a sample of 1,156 respondents. The landline total respondents were 430 and there were 726 cell phone respondents. The margin of sampling error for total respondents is +/- 3.4 at the 95% confidence level. The design effect is 1.42. More information about SSRS can be obtained by visiting www.ssrs.com. Unless otherwise noted, results beginning with the March 31-April 2, 2006 survey and ending with the April 22-25, 2017 survey are from surveys conducted by ORC International. Results before March 31, 2006 are from surveys conducted by Gallup.

Question text noted in parentheses was rotated or randomized. Values less than 0.5 percent are indicated by an asterisk (*).

NOTE ABOUT CROSSTABS

Interviews were conducted among a representative sample of the adult population, age 18 or older, of the United States. Members of demographic groups not shown in the published crosstabs are represented in the results for each question in the poll. Crosstabs on the pages that follow only include results for subgroups with a minimum n=125 unweighted cases. Results for subgroups with fewer than n=125 unweighted cases are not displayed and instead are denoted with "SN" because samples of that size carry larger margins of sampling error and can be too small to be projectable with confidence to their true values in the population.

Q4. As you may know, removing a president from office involves two major steps in Congress. First, the House of Representatives must vote on whether there is enough evidence to bring a president to trial before the Senate. This step is called impeachment. Next, the Senate must vote on whether to remove the president from office, or not.

As you may know, the House has now impeached Trump and the case has been sent to the Senate for trial. As of now, do you think the Senate should vote to convict Trump and remove him from office, or do you think the Senate should vote against conviction and removal?

	Yes, vote for conviction and removal	No, vote against conviction and removal	No opinion

MORE ON METHODOLOGY

A total of 1,156 adults, including an oversample of 150 adults living in 15 battleground states: Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Wisconsin, were interviewed by telephone nationwide by live interviewers calling both landline and cell phones. Oversampled states have been weighted to represent their proper share of the adult population. Interviews were conducted in English and Spanish. Among the entire sample, 32% described themselves as Democrats, 26% described themselves as Republicans, and 42% described themselves as independents or members of another party.

All respondents were asked questions concerning basic demographics, and the entire sample was weighted to reflect national Census figures for gender, race, age, education, region of country, and telephone usage.

Results for the full sample have a margin of sampling error of +/- 3.4 percentage points. For the sample of 1,051 registered voters, it is +/- 3.6 percentage points. For the subset of 500 Democrats and Democratic-leaning independents who are registered to vote, it is +/- 5.3 percentage points. For the subset of 509 adults living in the 15 battleground states, it is +/- 5.4 percentage points.

Interviews were conducted among a representative sample of the adult population, age 18 or older, of the United States. Members of demographic groups not shown in the published crosstabs are represented in the results for each question in the poll. Crosstabs on the pages that follow only include results for subgroups with a minimum n=125 unweighted cases. Results for subgroups with fewer than n=125 unweighted cases are not displayed and instead are denoted with "SN" because samples of that size carry larger margins of sampling error and can be too small to be projectable with confidence to their true values in the population.

5ABB. Now I'm going to read the two charges against Donald Trump for which he was impeached by the House of Representatives and is now on trial for in the Senate. As I read each one, please say -- regardless of your view about removing him from office -- whether you think that charge against Trump is true or not true. Next, The charge that

Donald Trump obstructed the House of Representatives in its impeachment inquiry by defying lawful requests from Congress for testimony and evidence.
